_.js's Critique of CYL

Features: what can users do?

- You don't seem to allow users to be invited to an existing group anywhere in your doc
- Not having a moderator for your group is a somewhat strange design decision; I'd like to see a bit more justification for this
- It might be convenient to let an existing group form multiple agendas, so you don't need to re-make the same group for subsequent trips

Display: what can users see?

- You might want a standardized title bar:
  - 'Log Out'
  - 'My Profile', etc
- At the moment, it sounds like the only way for a user to view a group's agenda is to look through a bunch of pinpoints on the map. It would be nice if the agenda were formed into a list somewhere for ease of viewing.

Interfacing with Google Maps

- This interaction is a big part of your app:
  - It's what you bring to the table that similar apps don't
  - Your stated purpose is to integrate it with your service
- You don't seem to give any detail about your plans for it:
  - How do you plan to implement this?
  - What might go wrong?
  - Do you have a backup plan?
